GlucoTwin clinic architecture

Historical context and incoming CGM support an evolving patient model and an auditable care-team workflow.

SQLite migrations persist observations, context, forecasts, reviews and audit records.

Authenticated clinic access; no model update from acknowledgement; future outcomes stay hidden.

Evidence boundary

Recorded public-data and synthetic-stream modes are implemented as research demonstrations. A live CGM integration, prospective clinical validation, doctor review and clinical-use approval remain separate gates.